FRANCE REFUSES RUSSIANS A LOAN

This Action May Help to Obtain Peace In Far East.

RUSSIA IS APPROACHING A CRISIS

French Press Is Favorable to Peace and Great Pressure Will Be Brought To Bear on Czar—American Vessel Is Seized.

Paris, March 16.—The postponement of the Russian loan is definitely confirmed. This is likely to exert a powerful influence towards peace as it is the first time the French financiers have shown an indisposition to advance any funds, while the uncertainties of war continue. The following details of the postponement are from an authoritative source:

A committee representing the syndicate of French underwriters went to St. Petersburg to arrange the conditions with the minister of finance and a contract was drawn up for a $120,000,000 loan, taking the form of treasury bonds running seven years at 5 per cent.

The contract was then brought back to Paris for the advance of all the underwriters. In the meantime the disastrous events in Manchuria naturally aroused doubts on the part of financiers as to whether Russia should make peace or pursue the war. The influence of the financial elements was almost unanimous for peace but Russia's disinclination to consider peace appears to have induced the decision not to proceed with the contract and accordingly the signing of which was expected yesterday has been postponed and all the pending negotiations are also postponed. According to the Russian view this does not mean that the negotiations have been broken off but merely that they are adjourned as the Russian authorities say the syndicate holds itself bound towards Russia now as before. However, the circumstances of the adjournment tend to show that the syndicate inclines to wait for some definite development of peace before proceeding any further. It is authoritatively denied in the highest Russian quarters that the French government exercised any pressure towards preventing the increase of French holdings of Russian securities. Nevertheless it is probable that some members of the government acting individually voiced the prevailing view that caution was desirable. Since M. Rouvier has combined in himself the presidency of the council of ministers and the ministry of finance, the government has indirectly exerted strong influence on private financial affairs. It is significant that the postponement of the loan is coincident with a strong movement of the influential French press favorable to peace.

The Matin prominently displays a statement believed to reflect the views of financial circles which declares that if Japan is ready to adopt a generous attitude by waiving an indemnity or imposing any humiliation upon Russia then Russia's policy of war to the bitter end will cease. It is noticeable that some of the Russian officials speak approvingly of the latter proposition. They say peace is impossible if an indemnity or any humiliating conditions are asked, so that the elimination of these two points will go far towards securing favorable consideration of peace.

Chinese Govern Traffic.

Tien Tsin, March 16.—Train service on the Yinkow, Koupatkinse-Siminton railroad will be resumed tomorrow. It is understood that the Japanese have agreed to the Chinese regulations governing traffic on the road.

Capture of An American Steamer.

Tokio, March 15.—2 p. m.—The American steamer Tacoma was seized by the Japanese guardship yesterday March 14. The Tacoma is an iron twin-screw steamer, of 1,650 tons register. She is owned by the Northern Pacific Steamship company, of Seattle, from which port she sailed Jan. 6, with a cargo of barrel beef for Vladivostok. It is said, although, ostensibly she was bound for Shanghai. When last reported, the Tacoma was fast in the ice north of Hokkaido island, with Japanese ships lying in wait to pick her up when she worked clear.

Japs Cruisers at Singapore.

London, March 16.—A dispatch to the Star from Singapore says that four Japanese cruisers arrived here today from the eastward.

Government Will Repair Cruiser Lena

Vallejo, Cal., March 16.—The plans of the Russian government to have the Russian cruiser Lena, which has been lying at the Mare Island navy yard for many months, repaired at the Union Iron works, San Francisco, have been abandoned, as President Roosevelt would not give the desired permission. The work will be done at Mare Island by the regular yard employes. The boilers of the Lena are to be retubed and the pumps repaired, and there is a great deal of other work. Two months' time will be required to complete the repairs.

STORM SWEPT ENGLISH COAST.

Much Damage is done by Hurricane On English Coast.

London, March 16.—A storm of hurricane force burst over the Irish and English coast during the night and it is feared that many disasters have occurred. The British ship Khyber has been totally wrecked off the Cornish coast. Twenty-three of her crew were drowned and three saved. She sailed from Melborne, Australia, Oct. 26 for Queenstown.

The storm swept over the North of Ireland early this morning and did great damage to property. Fears are entertained for the safety of the fishing fleets.

The high winds have caused considerable havoc along the coasts of the United Kingdom. Telegraphic communication between London and many points is cut off. The lifeboast stations are busy and shipping everywhere is seeking shelter. Numbers of minor wrecks accompanied by loss of life have been reported. Terrific seas are running. The departure of Queen Alexandra and party for Lisbon has been postponed until tomorrow.

LOOKING FOR GUILTY PARTIES.

Detectives Will Seek to Find the Persons Who Killed Mrs. Stanford.

Honolulu, March 16.—It was learned last night that some action will probably be taken at San Francisco, after the arrival of the detectives detailed there to investigate the recent death of Mrs. Stanford in this city. Captain Calludan, when asked if this action would be along criminal lines replied that all the work of the detectives was along criminal lines. Both the detectives here state that they have positive instructions not to talk about the case. This precaution was probably received from San Francisco. Both refused to discuss Professor Jordan's opinion that Mrs. Stanford's death was not due to strychnine. It is now believed that if the death had been natural this conclusion would have been announced in due course of time by the detectives, and their replies and attitude to questions indicate strongly possibilities that a murder charge will be made against someone. The detectives today cabled long messages to San Francisco.

Finder of Jewels Gets Big Reward.

New York, March 15.—A splendid diamond brooch containing stones weighing 22 karats and valued at $15,000, which was lost last Saturday night by Mrs. L. Edwin Ward, as she was leaving a theater in Thirty-fifth street with her husband, has been returned by the finder, who received a reward of $1,000 in cash. The man's identity was not made known, but he appeared to be in poor circumstances.

Macon Tailors on a Strike.

Macon, Ga., March 16.—Union tailors in the employ of McKay & Bro and Samuels & Simon are out on a strike for a 10 per cent raise. In a recent compromise they were allowed a 5 per cent increase, but today they demanded the 10 per cent increase, a difference involving about 22 cents on every pair of pants cut.

COLORADO CONTEST EXCITES INTEREST

Claim Two of Adams Supporters Are Missing.

FINAL VOTE WILL BE CLOSE

Both Gubernatorial Candidates Expect the Office—All Sorts of Wild Rumors Are Afloat In Regard to the Situation.

Denver, Colo., March 16.—All sorts of wild rumors regarding the situation in the gubernatorial contests were in circulation today. One of these was to the effect that two of Governor Adams' supporters in the joint legislative convention had been kidnaped. This lacks verification. It is evident that the final vote will determine whether Governor Alva Adams shall continue to hold the executive chair or shall surrender it to James H. Peabody will be very close.

It was on this account that the Peabody leaders secured an adjournment of the joint convention yesterday. Although 48 Republicans, only one less than a majority of the joint convention, voted yesterday for the recess, it is confidently asserted by Adams' friends that Peabody will not have more than 44 votes in the final determination of the contest. Three Republicans who voted for the recess have said that they did so merely to enable Senator Wood, who was absent yesterday, to be present when the vote in the contest is taken. The efforts of the Peabody leaders to have his contest treated as the political issue seem to have resulted, it is said, in finding members who have pledged themselves not to vote for Peabody under any circumstances. It is said that these Republicans have even rejected a proposition to vote for Peabody on condition that he would resign immediately after being seated. The action of Lieutenant Governor McDonald, in casting the deciding vote on the motion for a recess yesterday has opened up a wide range of discussion.

The Peabody and anti-Peabody Republicans then conferred on a scheme to seat Peabody as governor with an understanding that he will immediately resign, leaving the office to Lieutenant Governor McDonald.

One of the leaders of the anti-Peabody Republicans said, after adjournment, that Peabody's resignation had already been promised.

PROSECUTING POLYGAMISTS.

Officers of Northwestern Territories Make War on Mormons.

New York, March 16.—Wholesale prosecution of Mormons on the charge of polygamy have begun at Raymond, Alberta, one of the northwest territories, which has been made in a province, according to a Tribune special from Winnipeg. The mounted police have taken up the campaign against the Mormons, who number several thousand, having moved from the United States in the last five years.

The first action was taken against a well known resident of Magrath, who recently brought two wives from the United States, whom he is said to have married in Utah. He declared he was not living in a polygamous state, but was given his choice of leaving the country or being prosecuted. Similar notices have been served on many others known to have more than one wife.

Letter of President Davis Found.

Hillsboro, N. H., March 16.—A nephew of President Franklin Pierce has found an autograph letter written by Jefferson Davis to Pierce, among documents inherited from his uncle. Davis wrote from the senate chamber under date of Jan. 30, 1860, saying: "The prospect for our country is no less gloomy than when you left. I will stand by the flag and uphold the constitution whilst there is possibility of effecting anything to preserve or perpetuate the government we inherited. Beyond that duty and faith bind me to Mississippi and her fortunes as she may shape them."

KILLS HIS BRIDE'S FATHER.

Father of Girl Who Plummer Married is Killed by Son-In-Law.

Clarendon, Ark., March 16.—The bride's father dead and the groom seriously wounded is the sequel to a wedding here.

March 8 Lawrence A. Plummer and Miss Pansy Perry were married at Clarendon.

A day or two later W. H. Perry heard that Plummer was already married and set up an investigation. Plummer admitted having been married, but claimed that he was divorced.

Perry, however, took his daughter home. Last Monday Perry took the young lady to the home of an uncle in order to keep her from Plummer.

A fight ensued. Perry cut Plummer a number of times and shot him in the head, but Plummer finally shot Perry, killing him almost instantly.

Sheriff Black went to the scene of the tragedy this afternoon, but Plummer was too badly hurt to be brought back. Plummer claims to be from Atlanta, Ga., and to some he stated that he came from Missouri. Very little is known of him here.

CLAIMS SHERIFF A WHITECAP.

Detective Asserts that Officer Was a Member of Whitecap League.

Jackson, Miss., March 16.—A member of the executive committee of the Law and Order league of Franklin county arrived in the city this afternoon to confer with the governor in regard to the suspension of Sheriff Newman, of that county.

It is alleged that the detective employed by Governor Vardaman has signed statements from 300 members of the former whitecaping organization detailing its workings.

Sheriff Newman is alleged to be a member of the whitecaps' organization, and the executive committee of the Law and Order league will arrive in the city tomorrow for the purpose of conferring with the governor and placing evidence before him of the alleged connection of Sheriff Newman with the whitecap organization.

Under the law, there is considerable doubt as to the governor having authority to remove a sheriff, but he can suspend him and appoint an interim official.

NEW FURNACE FOR ALABAMA.

Alabama Coal and Iron Company Will Erect Plant at Gadsden.

New York, March 16.—The executive committee of the Alabama Consolidated Coal and Iron company decided today to authorize the immediate construction of a new furnace at Gadsden, as a duplicate of the plant now there.

The matter has been under investigation for some time and was practically determined upon when the control of the Alabama Consolidated company was bought by the Internationa Power company.

The new furnace, which will have every modern labor saving device, and cost about $350,000, will be built as rapidly as possible, working night and day.

It will have a daily output of 200 tons of pig iron. Its cost will be paid for out of the surplus fund now in the treasury.

Lobster Dealers form Combine.

Portland, Me., March 16.—Four of the largest wholesale lobster dealers here, said to control half of the output of the country, are reported to have agreed on entering a combine for which an agent has been canvassing the New England coast towns during the past three weeks. He is said to have made an agreement with practically every big dealer in Maine and the success of the pact is believed to be assured. Promoters of the combine assert that no advance in prices is contemplated, but the local dealers contradict this statement and predict an advance.

Shot for Interferring with Lovers.

Tampa, Fla., March 16.—Antonio Ybanez, a cigar manufacturer of West Tampa, was shot three times for attempting to interfere with a love affair between his sister in law, Conception Alvarez, and Francisco Fonseira. Both the men were prominent in Cuban circles. Ybanez will probably die. Fonseira is in jail. He claims to have acted in self-defense.

MRS. CHADWICK VISITS HER HOME

Woman Collapsed When She Entered Former Abode.

SELECTS PERSONAL BELONGINGS

By Direction of an Order from Bankruptcy Court All Her Property Except Wearing Apparel Will Be Sold at Auction.

Cleveland, March 16.—Mrs. Chadwick accompanied by two deputy United States marshals left the county jail today in a closed carriage and was driven to her old home for a farewell visit.

With the exception of $500 worth of personal effects exempt from the claims of creditors, all the furnishings and other personal property in the house will be sold at public auction next Friday by Trustee Loeser.

Mrs. Chadwick was granted permission by Judge Taylor, of the federal court, to visit her home today to decide upon what property she would retain. It was evidently a trying ordeal for the convicted woman.

Immediately upon entering the sumptuously furnished residence she broke down and wept bitterly. It was her first visit to the house since last November, soon after which she left for New York, where, in the following month, she was arrested.

Mrs. Chadwick had finally regained her composure she began a tour of the house, selecting such articles as she desired to keep. Shortly after beginning this task she encountered Dr. Chadwick. Husband and wife at first merely smiled and nodded, and then, in a formal way shook hands. Only a few words were exchanged between the couple. Dr. Chadwick had not previously seen his wife for about two months, when he last visited her at the jail.

Mrs. Chadwick selected between $4,000 and $5,000 worth of personal property, which she claimed was exempt under the statute. Almost all of this was wearing apparel and Nathan Loeser, trustee in bankruptcy, said that he would protest each and every selection.

Mr. Loeser said:

"Mrs. Chadwick selected enough clothing for 25 women, which, in view of the way she squandered her creditors money, I consider very bad taste."

Before leaving the home Mrs. Chadwick again broke down and gave way to tears. She was allowed five minutes with her husband, who only for a moment showed signs of affection or feeling for her. Replying to her statement that she knew that she was absolutely innocent of any charges against him, Dr. Chadwick said:

"I hope you will be able to disprove the charges against you."

When the time came for her departure Mrs. Chadwick was escorted to the carriage and returned to the jail. A small crowd had collected at the driveway to see her pass, but the curtains to the carriage were drawn.

Government to Control Factories.

New York, March 16.—Cigars, cigarettes and all kinds of liquors and matches have been declared by the government to be sources of national incomes, says a Herald dispatch from Bogota, Colombia. The government has, therefore, decided to control their manufacture, accordingly.

The state of siege has been raised throughout the country and the present amnesty has been given to all political offenders who will shortly return to their homes.

Ohio River Past Danger Line.

Evansville, Ind., March 16.—The Ohio river is rising because of melting snows and late rains in the upper waters and reached a stage of 26 feet this morning—one foot past the danger line here. Little damage has been done, although much of the low land is flooded. It is expected that the crest of the rise will reach here Friday with a maximum of 34 feet and that the high water will pass off without much damage.

FLETCHER HAS A NEW LEASE ON LIFE

Jury in Famous Chamberlain Murder Case Couldn't Agree.

MISUNDERSTOOD THE CHARGE

From a Standpoint of Law the Jury Reached a Verdict Under Provision of the Charge, but Reported Disagreement and Was Discharged.

After a tedious trial occupying three and a half days, in which Fletcher Watson, colored, was arraigned upon a charge of murder of Garrett V. Chamberlain, the jury has brought in a verdict which gives the defendant a new lease on life, since the jury failed to agree, after eighteen hours' deliberation.

The jury retired at 6:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, after hearing the arguments in behalf of the State and defense. No agreement was reached when the court re-convened in the evening of Wednesday, and at 9 o'clock Thursday morning there was apparently still no promise of reaching a verdict. The jury came into open court an hour later, however, and reported through their foreman, L. E. Means, the inability to arrive at a verdict.

"Is the failure of the jury to arrive at a verdict due to a point of law or a point of fact?" queried the court.

"To a point of fact, Your Honor," replied the foreman.

"Then the court directs that the jury return to their room and endeavor to arrive at a verdict," said Judge Wills.

How the Jury Stood.

When the jury retired to their quarters the first vote stood eleven for conviction and one for acquittal. Of those voting for conviction four were for murder in the first degree and seven for murder with recommendation of mercy. The vote remained the same during the night, notwithstanding that several ballots were said to have been taken. In the morning, however, the juror who had been holding out for acquittal agreed to a verdict of murder with recommendation to the mercy of the court.

The Charge Misunderstood.

Had the jury properly understood the charge of Judge Wills, this would have meant a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy, as His Honor's charge was explicit that the jury could find the defendant guilty only by a unanimous vote, but that a majority of the jury could recommend him to the mercy of the court.

When Foreman Means replied to the query of the court as to whether the jury was hung on a point of law or a point of fact, that gentleman made a reverse reply, as it was understood later to be really a point of law. However, it was a technical point and a point which none but a lawyer might perfectly understand. Had the reply been correctly made a verdict with a recommendation to mercy would have been rendered.

The jury in this celebrated case which has attracted so much interest was as follows:

L. E. Means, foreman; J. C. Blitch, Lucius Hall, J. W. Dell, George Kitler, H. L. Beville, J. A. McKinstry, H. J. Bailey, P. Y. Smith, J. L. DeLoach, J. B. Warren, J. M. Cox.

Among other business transacted by the court was the sentence of $100 and costs or six months in jail for Henry McMillan, who pleaded guilty to selling liquor in a dry county.

The judgement against A. E. Summers and H. McL. Grady on the estreated bond of J. M. Fryer was set aside by the payment of costs in the matter.

There being no further business court adjourned for the term.

WINDSOR NOTES.

Undue Alarm About Cabbage Snakes. Winter Visitors Return Home.

Windsor, March 15.—Rev. Mr Christian, an evangelist from Kentucky, has just closed a week of very interesting meetings at this place. Mr. Christian's next place where he will hold meetings is Barton.

Mr. and Mrs. Judah, together with Mrs. Judah's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, have returned to Indiana. Mrs. Willard has also returned to her home in Indiana.

Dr. and Mrs. Middleton have departed for points in South Florida.

The people of Windsor very much regret that Dr. Byre was obliged to return North so early. He will be long remembered for the many kindnesses he performed while here.

The severe cold snaps we had during the past winter did less harm than people imagined. The orange trees here are entirely unhurt. They are putting out a fine growth and some trees are showing many blossom buds.

Messrs. M. J. Beckham and J. J. Wilkinson each have fine patches of cabbage, from which they are now cutting marketable heads. There are many people deterred from eating cabbage on account of the rumor of "cabbage snakes" being revived again this year. To all who have become nervous about using this healthful vegetable, we would suggest that they send to the United States Bureau of Entomology a request for a copy of Bulletin No. 44, of that office. On page 93 of this bulletin they will find the subject of cabbage snakes discussed at considerable length, and I trust they will be gratified to learn that most, if not all the reported cases of poisoned cabbage are groundless, and that there is no more danger in eating cabbage than in eating any other vegetable.

LIFE IN GREENLAND.

The Ways of the People, Their Pleasures and Their Food.

Greenland's west coast is considered to have the grandest scenery of any coast in the world by Roger Pollock, who writes of a journey thither as follows: "The sunny arctic day, which lasts for months; a sky all flaming glory, the fretted spires of the Alps flanked with stupendous cliffs and based on the restful levels of the sea, cities of crowded bergs, compound of dazzling light and radiant color—such scenery as that blots out one's former memories. Our first port of call was Jakobshavn, at the head of Disco strait, biggest of the northern villages, a metropolis of nine white people and 400 natives. Beside a pocket harbor, perched on round shoulders of the naked granite, are the buildings, all tarred black, of the Royal Trade company. For a background to the dismal scene rise higher rocks, littered with garbage and turf huts, the homes of the natives. At heart the place is gay, for our sailors went ashore every night to dance with the Eskimo girls, while the officers of ship and colony swapped dinner parties, breakfasts and luncheons all through a nine days' festival.

"Men and women alike," the writer continues, "were linguists, well read, accomplished, a little too polite for comfort, living a metropolitan life on one batch of letters a year in an arctic outpost. Expecting the pathos of banishment, I found the gayety of perfect content. The Danes of all the settlements were alike in social charm, gentle and polished—arrant gossips, too—and the indoor life had little to remind one of the outdoor wilderness. The Innuit servant maids wore the furry breeches, boots to the hip and curious topknot of their national dress. One had to fall promiscuously in love with all of them.

"Even the Danish men wore native dress, but there was one important distinction—they washed. The food, apart from Danish groceries, was seal meat, fish, reindeer, venison, shellfish, ptarmigan, sea birds and their eggs, which, as served in Greenland, are always pronounced in flavor."

Andrew Lang on Dogs.

There is not one of the seven deadly sins of which the dog is not habitually guilty, and I am unaware of a single redeeming feature in his repulsive character.

The self consciousness and vanity of dogs might disgust even a minor poet. I have known a collie—certainly a very handsome collie—to pass his days in contemplating his own image in the glass. I know a dog dandy which actually makes eyes, being conscious that he possesses these organs very large, brown and decorative.

The dog is not brave. The dog is not faithful. It needs a great deal of fidelity in man to cling as he does to the dog, licking, as it were, the paw—the muddy paw—which tramples him.

Who has not seen a dog morally corrupt a family, reducing them to the slaves of his impulses? Tip wants to take a walk! Tip wants to go out of the door, then he wants to come in again, then he appears at the window and scratches, then he fancies the most comfortable armchair and ousts a jaded and middle aged man of letters.—Illustrated Kennel News.

Beecher's Remedy

The man who can see both ways that a rule works, even if one way may point against himself, is broad minded and pretty sure to possess the great saving sense of humor. Such a man was Henry Ward Beecher, and the Buffalo Commercial quotes the following as an instance of his fairness:

A country clergyman called on the great minister and asked his advice about what to do with persons who go to sleep in church, something which had become quite prevalent in his congregation. Mr. Beecher listened very attentively, admitted that it was serious and then said:

"When I first came to Plymouth church I thought about this problem, and I will tell you the course I decided upon. I gave the sexton strict orders that if he saw any person asleep in my congregation he should go straight to the pulpit and wake up the minister."

In Order to Insure First-Class Attractions It Has Become Necessary to Make an Advance Guarantee, and the People Are Responding Readily.

After working for a couple of days on the "star" list for the Gainesville Chautauqua, Geo. W. Hyde feels very much gratified at the success, and also at the interest in the enterprise being manifested by the people of the city.

Quite a number have subscribed for "star" tickets at $10 each, the amounts subscribed being payable December 1. It will be noted that the class of subscribers are of the best. Mr. Hyde, who is the originator of the idea, would be glad to have others subscribe. The list may be found at his store.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Charwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago and since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

SENIOR EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Interesting Meeting, at Which Much Business Was Transacted.

The Senior Epworth League of the Methodist church held a business meeting after the prayer-meeting service Wednesday evening, at which a great deal of business of importance to the League was transacted. W. R. McKinstry was chairman of the meeting.

Roy E. Huffman was elected treasurer, vice W. W. Watkins, who has removed from the city.

The time for holding the business meetings was changed to Monday after the first Sunday of each month.

A committee of three was appointed to consider the advisability of inviting the State League Convention to meet in this city. This conference will be held in June of the present year.

About twelve applications for membership were read and acted upon favorably. The League is growing rapidly, which is gratifying to those interested.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Color Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Colo., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope.

"I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief; but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Health is too valuable to risk in experiments with unknown and untried medicines or methods of treatment. Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

A STARKE MARRIAGE.

Sam T. Dell and Miss Ollie Weeks Were Happily Married Thursday.

Starke was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding Thursday, the contracting parties being Sam T. Dell of this city and Miss Ollie, the charming daughter of Col. and Mrs. W. T. Weeks of that city. The ceremony which made them man and wife was performed by Rev. J B Ley of Live Oak, editor of The Florida Christian Advocate, and an old friend of both the Dell and Weeks families.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, which had been tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. It was a quiet affair, only relatives and a few most intimate friends of the contracting parties being present. Those from Gainesville were Dr. J. M. Dell, brother of the groom, Perry M. Colson, Misses Bessie and Pearl Colson and Merrill Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. Dell are expected in this city this afternoon, and will make their home here.

To the happy pair The Sun, with numerous other friends, extends sincere congratulations, with the wish that their path may always be strewn with flowers.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Charles F. Lemberger of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at all drug stores.

K. T. Elects Officers.

At the meeting of Pilgrim Commandery No. 7, Knights Templar, Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

The Best Cough Syrup.

S. L. Apple, Ex-Probate Judge, Ottawa Co., Kansas, writes: "This is to say that I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for years, and that I do not hesitate to recommend it as the best cough syrup I have ever used." 25c, 50c, $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

FOUND DEAD WOMAN IN CAB.

Man Also Found in an Unconscious Condition by Police.

New York, March 16.—The body of a woman who had been dead several hours and a man unconscious and apparently dying were found in a cab which was driven up to a Brooklyn police station on a gallop early today.

The man, who was suffering from alcoholism and possibly from the effects of a drug, may recover. Both he and the driver of the cab have been detained by the police pending an investigation of the affair. Although the condition of the man was so serious that he could give the police little information which would aid them in their investigation, he said that his name was Thomas Deegan and that he lived in Monroe street, one of the better class residential sections of Brooklyn. The dead woman, he said was Miss Mary Savage, 30 years old. Both Deegan and Miss Savage were well dressed.

Invaluable for Rheumatism.

I have been suffering for the past few years with a severe attack of rheumatism and found that Ballard's Snow Liniment was the only thing that gave me satisfaction and tended to alleviate my pains. March 24th, 1902, John C Degnan, Kinsman, Ill. 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

WILL ESCORT THE PRESIDENT.

Confederate Veteran Camp of Louisville Will Perform the Honors.

Louisville, Ky., March 16.—The Geo B. Easting camp, United Confederate Veterans, has accepted the invitation of the committee on arrangements to act as escort to President Roosevelt upon the occasion of his visit to Louisville, April 4.

Thirty-one years ago this camp acted in a similar capacity when President Hayes was entertained here. Arrangements for the reception of President Roosevelt are progressing favorably, but nothing definite will be announced until official notice of his arriving have been received from Washington.

It is expected, however, that the president will come by way of Cincinnati, and in that event the Louisville reception committee will meet his train at LaGrange, a few miles out, on the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

JUDGE LIDDON.

In conversation with a reporter of The Daily Capital at Tallahassee a few days ago, regarding the proceedings for disbarment instituted against him, Judge Liddon is quoted as having said:

"The charges against me, of course, are frivolous, false and unsusceptible of any proof whatsoever. They are not believed by any one who knows me. I am not disturbed by this matter, because it is not at all a bona fide proceeding. I do not care to say anything further on the subject now, being wholly disinclined, as I said at the outset, to debate a matter before the courts in the public press; but you may state very positively, that when this matter comes up in due course before Judge Parkhill, which will be at an early date, my answer to every charge made against me will be complete and entirely satisfactory to all of my friends."

The railroads of Florida would do a good business if they would run a few excursions at this season of the year. There are numerous visitors who would take advantage of such rates.

A gentleman who has been watching the progress of the Russian-Jap war with considerable interest said that he thought it looked as though Kuropatkin was trying to lure the Japs into the Arctic Ocean.

The baseball season opens in Jacksonville today, when the Detroit and Cincinnati American League teams will play the first of a series of three games in that city. Baseball is the great American game and is bound to rage greater than ever this year.

A HEALTH RESORT.

The health of Gainesville will compare favorably with any city in the South, whether it be in Florida or other States that lay claim to being health resorts. And there are several very good reasons why this is true.

In the first place, the city is located near the center of Alachua, one of the few counties of the State that are in the range of the highest elevation through the central portion. The rainfall is less than in other portions and the drainage is as good as can be found anywhere.

Secondly, we have drinking water that is never tainted with malaria in the least. It is not "just as good" as any in Florida—it is the best. Being an absolutely pure spring water, there is no chance for it to become tainted in any way. This is the most important factor in the health of our city, as it can be drank without causing any injurious effects.

The idea which some people have that the heat is unbearable in midsummer is erroneous, because those who make such statements don't know what they are talking about. It is a fact that the summers are long, but people who are tired of living in the North, where they have nine months of winter, and the other three months of the year very late in the fall, and would like to reverse the order of things and have a little pleasant summer weather during their sojourn on this mundane sphere, are invited to come to Florida and locate in Gainesville.

Those who have tasted know, and as a health resort hundreds who have been here can testify to the truth of the assertions here made.

BEEF AND BUTTER.

A gentleman of this city who has been in the cattle business for some time, is a strong supporter of the Shorthorns in preference to the smaller breeds. His judgment would seem to be good as the best authority that can be found leads one to believe that it is manifestly bad economy to raise cattle to produce milk and butter alone, when breeds are at hand which are good for these purposes besides being valuable for beef. The Jerseys, though good milkers, are practically valueless for other purposes. The cows are puny little things, incapable of producing good calves, and when all is summed up, they are not as good, certainly no better than the Shorthorns as producers of milk. Observation has shown that those farmers who have stuck to Shorthorn blood and made both beef and butter, have been more prosperous than their rivals who ignored beef and looked for dairy products alone. While dairying as a specialty is well enough in its way, those who have studied all sides of the question declare that it is unwise to try to force it upon people who do not want to milk cows and could not get the labor if they did.

As beef cattle, the smaller breeds are little better than farces. Instances are given of steers, which cost to produce not less than $33 at three-year-old, were sold at less than $23 per head. Steers of Shorthorn stock, at similar ages and the same kind of feeding, would bring more than double the money. The lesson to be derived from this is that Shorthorn and other standard beef breeds should be used as sires to give the best results for both beef and milk production. In some sections the exclusive use of dairy sires, especially of Jersey blood, has done incalculable damage to the live stock interests. The true policy, therefore, is to combine the two objects of producing good cattle for beef while raising cows of the same class to keep up the dairy products.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

IRONCLAD VESSELS.

The First Ones Seem to Have Been Built by France in 1855.

The idea of protecting ships by means of armor appears to have originated in the United States, but the French were the first to adopt it. Five floating batteries were constructed in France with oak sides eight inches thick, protected by armor four and three-eighths inches thick. In March, 1855, the first of these, the Tonnante, mounting sixteen guns, was launched at Brest, and the other four were all launched in the same year. These vessels were first used at the bombardment of Kinburn in the Black sea on the 17th October, 1855. Two English vessels—the Erebus and Terror—were at once built on similar lines, but did not arrive at Kinburn till the 24th of October, too late to take part in the bombardment.

The results of this experiment were so satisfactory that the French government fitted a wooden frigate, then building, with armor of the same thickness, and in November, 1859, the first ironclad frigate, La Gloire, of 5,600 tons displacement and 800 horsepower, was launched.—Pearson's Weekly.

When We Did Not Care For Japan.

When the first embassy from Japan arrived in Washington a member of the senate rose and said: "Mr. President, the first ambassadors from the venerable country of Japan are about to arrive. I move the senate do now adjourn to meet and welcome the Japanese." Immediately another senator was on his feet, not to second the motion, but to say sharply, "Mr. President, I humbly trust the senate of the United States of America will not adjourn for every show that comes along." That settled it.—From Mrs. Roger A. Pryor's "Reminiscences."

ANDERSON AGAIN A FREE CITIZEN

Released From Charge of the Murder of G. V. Chamberlain.

BREATHES FRESH AIR AGAIN

Was Arrested in Georgia and Brought Here by Deputy Sheriff Stokes, but Evidence Was Too Weak to Warrant Holding of the Man.

George Anderson, the negro who was arrested in Homerville, Ga., and brought to this city a few days ago charged with the murder of Garrett V. Chamberlain, is again a free man, having Thursday been released from the custody of the law.

Anderson, it appears, was employed at the naval stores farm of Osteen & Herrin, near Micanopy, at the time of the sad killing of Mr. Chamberlain. For several days afterward Anderson continued his occupation, but decided to leave and went to Georgia. In the meantime Fletcher Watson was arrested, charged with the murder, but Deputy Sheriff Stokes believed that Anderson was guilty and caused his arrest and imprisonment in Georgia, after a lapse of several months. Acting under Officer Stokes' instructions the sheriff of Homerville apprehended the man and telegraphed Mr. Stokes, who brought him here.

It seems that this man (Anderson) has been a kind of "white elephant" ever since he was brought here. It was intended to give him a preliminary hearing before Justice Colman, and various witnesses were summoned, but when the time arrived for holding the trial, Saturday of the past week, the matter was discussed, and inasmuch as the crime for which Anderson was charged was committed in another district Justice Colman refused to sit upon the case, referring the same to Justice Smith of Micanopy. The man was remanded to jail in this city, and the question of disposing of him was rather a knotty one, since the Micanopy justice did not seem particularly anxious to try the case. After the jury in the Fletcher Watson case failed to agree Thursday it was decided to release Anderson, as the officers state there was no evidence to hold him, and Anderson is once more a free and happy man.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

A HAPPY MARRIAGE.

S. C. Dell and Miss Fowler Wed at Melrose—Notes From Alachua.

Alachua, March 16.—The marriage of Miss Leona Fowler to Mr. S. C. Dell, at the home of the bride's parents at Melrose Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, was one of the prettiest of the season, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Moseley of Melrose.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Fowler of Melrose, a young lady who is held in high esteem by all who have met her—one who possesses those womanly traits of character which make home happy. She is a sister of Mrs. C. A. Williams of this place and has spent some time here, making hosts of friends who will be glad to welcome her back as Mrs. S. C. Dell.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Dell of Traxler, a young man of sterling worth, who stands high in the estimation of all who know him. By close attention to work he has succeeded, and is manager of the firm of Dell, Jordan & Co., of this place, and numbers his friends by his acquaintances.

The young people will be at home to their friends here after the 20th.

The popularity of this couple was shown by the many beautiful and handsome presents they received.

Misses Claude Maynard and May Dell, Messrs. Rol Reeves and W. T. Roberts attended the Fowler-Dell wedding at Melrose Wednesday.

C. A. Williams is quite sick at his home here.

Misses Mattie and Maria Turner spent Friday at Haynesworth.

Mrs. O. M. Futch has returned from Gainesville.

W. H. Traxler of Traxler, one of the county's largest merchants and cotton buyers, was in the city Tuesday.

Prof. DeLand and Misses Lucy Newsome and Rosa May attended the Teachers' Institute at Gainesville last week.

W. J. Hodge was able to be up last week, after an illness of several weeks.

A good many of our people are sick with la grippe.

Things are warming up for the incorporation of Alachua. It's a good thing—push it along.

ALABAMANS LYNCH NEGROES.

They Killed a Prominent White Man and Were Hanged by Mob.

Selma, Ala., March 16.—Ed and Will Ptomey, two negroes, were lynched by a mob of citizens near Allenton, in Wilcox county.

Tuesday morning one of the negroes shot and fatally wounded Professor Claude Hardy, at Pine Apple, in the same county. The two negroes had a fight with some negroes on Professor Hardy's plantation, and when he went to see the Ptomey boys about it one of them pulled a pistol and shot him.

A posse was immediately organized who started in pursuit of the negroes who were located in a house near Allenton, which they had barricaded. The two negroes were finally taken from the house by the posse, who carried them into a nearby swamp and hanged them to a tree.

NEGRO GETS A NEW TRIAL.

Mrs. Edwards, the Condemned Woman Says He Is Innocent.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 16.—The Pennsylvania supreme court having decided yesterday to send the case of Samuel Greason, negro, under sentence of death in Reading for the murder of Joh nEdwards in 1901, back to the Berks county court, the board of pardons today granted a continuance in his case and also in that of Mrs. Kate Edwards, white, who is also condemned to death for the same crime.

At the February session of the pardon board the condemned couple were reprieved until ten days after the present meeting of the board so that the attorneys could again take the case of Greason into court. The decision of the board today acts as a stay pending the disposal of the case of the Berks county court.

Greason and Mrs. Edwards had been sentenced to be hanged on Feb. 16 but on Feb. 15 attorneys for Greason appeared before the board of pardons and submitted evidence to the effect that Mrs. Edwards had confessed that Greason was innocent of the crime of killing her husband. The board of pardons thereupon reprieved Greason so that his case could be further investigated and reprieved Mrs. Edwards in order that she might be used as a witness in Greason's behalf.

Nothing has been done looking toward a new trial for the condemned woman.

VALUABLE TABLEWARE STOLEN

Wealthy Man's Home Ransacked and $50,000 Worth of Valuables Taken.

New York, March 16.—Property valued at from $10,000 to $50,000 consisting mostly of gold and silver tableware has been stolen from the home, in East Ninety-fourth street, of Joseph E Schoenberg, a wealthy merchant, who has establishments through Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The merchant and his family are now traveling in Europe. Bric-a-brac, silverware, paintings and other household articles valued at nearly $200,000 were left there without a caretaker. Inspection of the house by Schoenberg's son-in-law and the latter's wife disclosed the robbery.

Some of the rooms had been completely ransacked and many chests containing the family silverware were nearly empty. Much valuable property in the closets, however, had not been disturbed, evidently the robbers had been frightened off.

WOMAN CAPTURES SWINDLER.

Despite Man's Struggles, He Is Held Until Police Arrive.

Chicago, March 16.—Despite his struggles, Mrs. Minnie Rounds has held until the arrival of police, a man believed to be wanted in several states on the charge of "swindling." The captive gave the name of Charles E Raymond.

Mrs. Rounds was approached by Raymond, who wanted to advertise her property for sale. She recognized the man as one to whom she paid $6.85 two months ago. She attacked him with an umbrella and prevented him from escaping. The police found in the man's possession letters from firms and a list of more than 500 supposed victims. There also was a note signed "Miss Agnes Bransky, Winona, Minn.," accusing the man of swindling the writer and taking her watch, ring and other jewelry.

Transpiring in "The Land of Flowers." Things "Boiled Down" to Suit the Busy Reader—Items of Interest to All Classes.

Jacksonville now wants a race track.

Candler farmers are planting lots of velvet beans.

Miami is expecting a building boom the coming summer.

Daytona and Port Orange are having a real estate boom.

The Tallahassee policemen now have new blue uniforms, having discarded their old suits of gray.

The tomato crop in the vicinity of Arch Creek, Dade county, is placed at 40,000 crates for the season.

Tampa has a milk and food inspection ordinance, also a law to see that all foodstuffs are properly looked after.

Dr. R. L. Goodbread will administer to the wants of the State insane. Good bread cuts quite a figure with people who are not crazy.

Mrs. Ruby W. Trammell of Tallahassee, and D. W. Sweat of Fort Meade, have been appointed notaries public for the State at large.

George Davis and Charles McFail, both colored, living near Live Oak, had a quarrel and Davis stabbed McFail, killing him almost instantly.

It was suggested that auto races be held on the beach at St. Augustine, and the editor of The Daytona Daily News immediately "t'rowed" a fit.

The Orlando races, which open next Tuesday, will be full of interest to all who enjoy wholesome sport. Besides the trotting there will be polo and running races on the last day, the 24th.

Antonio Ybanez, a cigar manufacturer of West Tampa, was shot three times Tuesday night for attempting to interfere with a love affair between his sister-in-law, Conception Alvares, and Francisco Forcira. He will die.

Anastasia Island, says The St. Augustine Record, is infested with bunco-steerers, monte men and highway robbers. A man from Cleveland, Ohio, was held up by three men a few days ago and robbed of $150. He was a moderately ripe plum or he might have known better.

The Oxford, Sumter county, literary club began a debate last Friday night: "Resolved, That Columbus Deserves More Credit for Discovering This Country Than Washington Does for Defending It." But, if it hadn't been for Columbus, Washington might have come to Florida to spend the winter instead of hanging around Valley Forge with cold feet.

The new ship channel from Miami to the ocean was opened Tuesday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies. The new channel will make it possible for ships to pass from the Atlantic into Biscayne Bay and out, and means much to Miami. The government in 1902 appropriated $300,000 for this work and the Florida East Coast railroad has also added largely to the fund.

Health, vigor and tone predominate. New life and happy activity results. Mrs. Belle H. I have wished that I had known of it in my husband's lifetime." 50 cents. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

HE MEANS SCOTT'S

Your doctor says you must take cod liver oil. Probably he means Scott's Emulsion because you cannot take the clear oil; no one can take the clear oil who needs cod liver oil. The doctor understands that and doubtless means Scott's Emulsion of cod liver oil which everybody can take because it is emulsified and prepared so that it can be very easily digested by the most sensitive stomach. Most everybody likes it.

EXCAVATION OF ANCIENT CITY.

Civilization Existed in Assyria 5,000 Years Before Christ.

Chicago, March 16.—Professor Robert Francis Harper, of the University of Chicago, who is director of the expedition of the Oriental Exploration fund now in Assyria, has received a telegram announcing that the work of excavating the ruins of Bismya, which was suspended last autumn, is to be resumed. The dispatch was from Victor Persons, engineer in charge, and stated that the sender started for Bismya from Bagdad on March 9.

The excavation was begun in December, 1903, and continued until several months ago when it was bandoned by order of the Turkish government. The permission to resume work is the result of Dr. Harper's recent trip to Constantinople.

Bismya, which has been identified as the Arab of ancient descriptions, is one of the most ancient of Babylonian cities, and flourished possibly as early at 4,000 or 5,000 years before Christ. No history of the place ever has been discovered, and tradition does not record the name of its ruling dynasty.

"Humpty Dumpty" Is Dead.

Denver, Colo., March 16.—Practically Penniless, with only his devoted wife to watch and mourn, Mons Niblo, famous circus clown and pantomimic has died in this city after fighting for months the ravages of tuberculosis. He came here in December, a physical wreck and has never been able since to leave his bed. Niblo was 53 years of age and for 35 years had performed before the public. He was the creator of the part of "Humpty Dumpty" in the play of that name.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Col. John M. Fuller of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo from liver and kidney trouble. In a recent letter he says: "I was nearly dead of these complaints, and although I tried my family doctor he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold and guaranteed to cure dyspepsia, biliousness and kidney disease by all druggists, at 50c a bottle.

BLESSING THE WATERS.

Unique and Solemn Annual Ceremony on the River Neva.

Midwinter in St. Petersburg each year sees a unique and solemn ceremony called "the blessing of the waters." A chapel of ice, richly decorated with ornaments from the palaces and churches and dedicated to St. John the Baptist, is erected on the frozen surface of the river Neva. The river is then called the Jordan, and religious services are conducted in the temple by the metropolitan or high priest of the national church, attended by the emperor and all his court. The ceremony is in memory of the baptism of Christ and is supposed to be a safeguard against dangers from floods as well as to benefit those who make their living on the sea.

A hole is cut in the ice in the center of the floor of the chapel. From this the people are baptized by sprinkling by the priests, and the faithful members of the Greek church go in vast crowds to get their share, while religious devotees often plunge into the ice cold flood through the hole. If they catch cold and die, as they often do, heaven is secured for them. On the evening before the ceremony devout churchmen make crosses on their thresholds to prevent the evil spirits that are driven from the water from taking refuge in their houses.—Chicago News.

A STORY OF THACKERAY.

How He Changed a Child's Night From Tears to Gladness.

Thackeray was delightful as a story teller. One evening I remember mamma gave a dinner party in his honor. I was allowed to sit up till 8:30 o'clock. Dinner in those days was at 6:30. When the party came into the drawing room I was there in my new white muslin with a light blue sash. Mr. Thackeray took possession of me, much to my delight. I remember sitting on his knee in a corner of the room, and he told me stories. There was one about a little boy named Peter, with close cropped red hair and a very snub little nose and bright blue eyes. Peter was quite a character, and the recital of his adventures was of the most interesting nature. I twisted myself with delight. I laughed so heartily that Mr. Thackeray grew funnier and funnier.

"You must go to bed now," said mamma, coming up. "People want to talk to Mr. Thackeray."

"Let me stay up," I cried, clinging to him.

"Five minutes more," said Mr. Thackeray, looking at his watch. "Five minutes, and then she will go to bed."

He changed the nature of Peter's adventures. They became quite sad. The little lad, I remember, was brought before the police, although he was utterly innocent. "He seemed so plucky as he sat there," said Mr. Thackeray. "The police said his head must be cut off, but he did not say a word. He looked like a small soldier. Ah, my lunettes got quite misty with my tears when I looked at him." And Mr. Thackeray pointed to his spectacles. I did not in the least see the incongruity of the police cutting off Peter's head or of Mr. Thackeray being there to see the little fellow. I was not laughing now. The tears were in my eyes when a hand was put on my shoulder. It was Reine, who had come to fetch me. Other guests were arriving, and all were waiting to be introduced to the illustrious novelist. The sudden termination of the story just at its most agonizing crisis was too much for my thrilled nerves. I lifted up my voice and wept aloud, and I was carried out in Reine's arms and put to bed. As I lay weeping on my pillow, thinking of poor little Peter's fate, of his innocence, of his bravery, a shadow bent over me. It was Mr. Thackeray, who had come in to comfort the weeping child, and he told me that Peter was saved and that he had been adopted by a rich lady and that he rode in a coach to school. I was comforted. I sat up in bed and kissed Mr. Thackeray. When he stole out of the room I fell asleep, to dream of the little red haired boy whose adventures I had heard.—Alice Cockran in Outlook.

No Way to Get Even.

A New York journalist once went down to Atlanta to interview Joel Chandler Harris, says the Outlook. When he told the creator of Uncle Remus that he was going to "write him up" the kindly southerner was immediately reminded of the experience of his old friend, Simon Sugg.

"Simon Sugg," he said, "was an odd old fellow who used to live down state. I knew him well when I was a boy. One day a friend met him.

"'Simon,' said he, 'do you remember Jim Hooper, that went to school with us down at Menticello?'

"'Jim Hooper?' Of co'se I 'member Jim Hooper. Little slim fellow, wa'n't he?'

"'Yaas. Well, Jim's gone and noveled you!'

"'Noveled me, hes he?' said Simon. 'Well, ding his hide!'"

Young Idlers of the Time.

Among the moderately well to do there is an army of young men growing up in idleness in this country who think it beneath their dignity to learn a trade or follow a profession and who in many instances form that large class known as genteel idlers. They have been pampered and petted by their parents until they have come to the conclusion that the world owes them a living without their having to work for it or give an equivalent in toil. They are in truth a menace to the peace and welfare of the country, and those who encourage them to it are as reprehensible as they.—Sioux City Tribune.

The White of an Egg.

The white of an egg is made up of little cells filled with albumen. By beating the white these cells are ruptured, and oxygen from the air is inclosed, which gives the white and light appearance to beaten eggs. The white of a stale egg will not inclose as much oxygen, will not be as light and as easily digested as that of the fresh egg and, of course, less valuable. The importance of beating the egg in cold, pure air is readily seen.

A free bottle of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup will be sent to any reader of this paper who will write to the Thacher Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

CHOPPING HIM DOWN.

Practical Joke That Was a Boomerang to the Woodsmen.

There is nothing that so cheers the heart of the lumberman as to play a practical joke on one whom he calls a "greenhorn," or, in other words, any one unused to the ways of a lumber camp. One of the harshest and most dangerous, although it is the most admired, writes Charles G. D. Roberts in "Around the Campfire," is that known as "chopping him down."

This means, in a word, that the stranger in camp is invited to climb a tall tree to take observations or enjoy a remarkable view. No sooner has he reached the top than two or three vigorous axmen attack the tree at its base. Long before he can reach the ground the tree begins to topple. As a general rule the heavy branches so break the fall of the tree that the victim finds himself uninjured. There are cases, however, where men have been crippled for life.

Mr. Roberts gives an experience of his own which did not come out exactly as the lumbermen expected. He had climbed into a magnificent pine tree one day. No sooner was he two-thirds up the tree than the lumbermen set to work to "chop him down."

"I thanked them for their attention," he writes, "and climbed a few feet farther up to secure a position which I knew would be a safe one for me when the tree should fall. As I did so I perceived, with a gasp and a tremor, that I was not alone in the tree.

"There, not ten feet above me, stretched at full length along a branch, was a huge panther. From the men below his form was quite concealed.

"I laughed to myself as I thought how my tormentors would be taken aback when that panther should come down among them. I decided that there would be no more danger to them than that to which they were exposing me in their reckless fooling.

"The great mass of foliage made the fall a comparatively slow one. Then came the final thunderous crash, and in an instant I found myself standing in my place, jarred, but unhurt.

"The next instant there was another roar, overwhelming the laughter of the woodsmen, and out of the pine boughs shot the panther in a whirlwind of fury. He turned half round and greeted his enemies with one terrific snarl and then bounded off into the forest at a pace which made it idle to pursue him.

"The men seemed almost to think that I had conjured up the panther for the occasion. I thanked them most fervently for coming to my rescue with such whole hearted good will and promised them that if ever again I got into a tree with a panther I would send for them at once."

MODERN CITY LIFE.

Its Saddest Aspect Is the Passing of the Home.

The passing of the home is the saddest phenomenon of modern city life. The tenement house, which we seek to disguise under the name of "flat," is a most wretched substitute for the humblest of homes. That our people endure them is an indication of degeneracy, as it will unquestionably be the cause of a more rapid descent. It is morally certain that the vigor of the race can be maintained only by personal contact with the mother earth from which we sprang, which nourishes us to her bosom when we die. Why this is, perhaps no one knows, but it is within the knowledge of all that the vigor of the city is constantly recruited from country life. To deprive children of daily contact with the soil is a sin.

The evil of the tenement house was not realized until it passed from the slums, because few of us know how the other half lives. It is perhaps not so desperate a misfortune to those who live by manual labor, for they get their contact with earth in other ways, and their children, less vexed by the conventions of society, find access to the soil by some means and pass, while still young, to the occupations of their parents. The most terrible effect of the tenement house is in the families of the "salaried" class as distinguished from the "wage earners" and who flit from flat to flat, seldom remaining long enough anywhere for home associations to be formed. There can perhaps be no home associations worthy of the name which are not connected with a piece of open ground in the sole possession of the family. It would seem that in our larger cities this privilege can no longer be enjoyed except by the rich.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Music as a Profession.

Unless a man is rich he ought to be regarded as a criminal if he permits his sons or daughters to become musicians. In the musical profession there are a few prizes not of the largest, but for the largest number of interpretative artists the life is one of drudgery—the drudgery of learning, the drudgery of pushing oneself into notice and after all the continual drudgery of playing or singing just the music the public wants. I recommend no one to enter such a profession unless he or she loves music to such a degree that the drudgery is a pleasure.—John F. Runciman in Saturday Review.

A Disappointed Cannibal.

A pathetic story of a disappointed cannibal is told in an English religious paper. "One day," says a missionary, "I was eating some canned sheep's tongues that had been sent from home. One of my natives, seeing me, jumped with delight. He thought they were men's tongues. His gloom on discovering that it was not a religious revival, after all, and that the missionary remained unconverted would have touched the hardest heart."

Not Caught.

Belle—What did you tell him when he suddenly asked how old you were? Estelle—I refused to tell him anything. You see, I couldn't for the life of me think of the number I had given him when he asked me before!

Tautology.

Teacher—What is tautology? Boy—Repetition. Teacher—Give me an example. Boy—We are going to have sheep's head for dinner, and my sister Elsie's young man is coming to dinner also. Teacher—Go up top.

ANTLERS VERSUS HORNS.

How Elks Shed and Renew Their Wonderful Weapons.

How many persons among the many thousands that annually visit our zoological parks realize as they pause to admire the noble bucks of the deer family, particularly the wapiti or American elk, that their branching antlers are cast off annually and renewed and well hardened within the short period of seven months?

Before describing the manner in which elk shed their antlers I should like to explain the difference between "antlers" and "horns." All the members of the deer family—the moose, caribou, elk (in Europe the animal which we call moose is known as elk) and smaller deer—possess antlers, while the appendages on the heads of goats, sheep, cattle and the like are known as horns and with one exception—the American antelope or prong-horn—are retained by their owners throughout life.

Elk shed their antlers about the 1st of February, though much depends upon the locality and upon the age and health of the animal. It often happens that one antler is carried several days after the other has been dropped. The new antlers push off the old ones, and when they appear they resemble scars on the animal's forehead, but soon take the form of two black velvet buttons about the size of silver dollars. As they continue to grow they gain in length only, and by the 1st of July they have attained their full size. If you could examine them now, you would find them soft, rather flexible, nourished by blood and incased in a thick, tough skin covered with velvety fur. The antlers are now "in the velvet," as the hunters term it, a most critical period for the owner, who seems to realize it, for he is careful to avoid contact with anything liable to injure them. Should an accident happen and the skin get broken or the antler disfigured it might result in the elk's bleeding to death or in his carrying a deformed antler until the following February. Through a process of nature the blood vessels that have fed the antlers are shut off about the middle of July, and then they begin to harden. A few weeks later the elk may be seen rubbing them against trees or thrashing them about in the brush while endeavoring to rid them of the velvet, and in a few days it hangs in shreds and soon disappears entirely. The elk is now lord of the forest and is ready to combat with his rivals or enemies.—St. Nicholas.

Which Came First?

The old problem of which came first, the hen or the egg, found a rival in a discussion at the Players' club one day as to which came first, writers or readers.

"If there were no readers, there certainly would be no writers," said Mr. John Malone. "Therefore the existence of writers depends upon the existence of readers, and, of course, as the cause must be antecedent to the effect, readers existed before writers. Yet, on the other hand, if there were no writers there could be no readers, so it should appear that writers must be antecedent to readers."

Another member of the club asserted that this reasoning was much on a par with the discovery of Lucretius that eyes were not made to see with, but by a fortuitous concurrence of atoms sight followed as an unforeseen circumstance.

He argued that, if eyes were made to see with, then seeing must have existed before eyes, and, if seeing existed before eyes, what could be the use of eyes? If seeing did not exist before eyes, how could eyes be made for that which is not—that is, for nothing? Therefore eyes were not made to see with.—New York Herald.

Ground Pearls.

The large order of hemiptera includes what are known as scale insects (coccidae), some of which are very destructive to fruit trees, while others are the source of cochineal and perhaps were the manna upon which the children of Israel fed in the wilderness. The life history of these insects includes a motionless pupa stage, similar to the chrysalis of a moth or butterfly. Before passing into this dormant and helpless condition the young of certain scale bugs make their way into the earth, and then a sticky fluid exudes from their bodies and quickly hardens into a protective coating resembling plain or colored glass and causes them to look something like beads, so that in some parts of the world they are known as "ground pearls." The best known of these are dug out of the earth in the West Indies and strung into necklaces or other ornaments. Similar objects are prized and worn by the natives of other regions.

Not Needed.

"Do you favor the whipping post for wife beaters?"

"No," answered the woman who has been several times married. "The flatiron or the stove lifter is good enough for me."—Washington Star.

Out.

"He's out a good deal nights, isn't he?" "He was last night. I won a hundred from him."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

While at the Springs the ladies were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ettel of the Hamilton, and are loud in their praise of this excellent hostelry.

READ THIS.

Lexington, Tenn., June 5, 1901.

This is to certify that about March last I suffered intensely with my back and kidneys. Just prior to this I had undergone treatment for bladder trouble and was relieved, except the treatment was followed by the above trouble. It was recommended that I try "Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery." I took one dose on retiring at night, and to my agreeable astonishment, I found myself relieved. One dose did the work. There is no bosh about this. It is wonderful.

Respectfully,
C. R. Scott,
Proprietor Scott House, formerly county chief clerk, postmaster, etc.

The North Gainesville Hall is being improved, a new platform being constructed. This hall is a great thing for the people of that lively suburb, as it affords the only resort of entertainment for them. The Ministerial Association propose to begin Monday a week's service in the hall, the ministers of the city alternating in the work. An enjoyable and instructive week is anticipated.

Prof. A. J. Foskett, who has been suffering with cold in the eye at his room, 202 South Pleasant street, for the past month, was yesterday transferred to the Odd Fellows' Sanitarium, where it is to be hoped the services of trained nurses and proper medical attention will soon prove of sufficient benefit to relieve him to the extent that he may come upon the street again. Park Theater.

At the Park canvas theater last evening the popular four-act comedy drama, "The Convict's Daughter," was presented to a large and appreciative audience. This drama has ample room for this company to appear at its best advantage and the touching scenes were artistically portrayed. The acting of this company has received the praise of all who have witnessed their dramas, and they have many friends in Gainesville.

By special request "The Fatal Wedding" will be presented this afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is one of the best plays in the repertoire, and is the star attraction of the company.
